

For Immediate Release:

September 11, 2009 – Arlington, Texas (Friday, September 11, 2009) Hosts announce the 2nd Annual AAFSA (African-American Faculty and Staff Association) Meet and Greet, on Friday, September, 11th, 2009 in Arlington at the Rio Grande Ballroom of the E.H. Hereford University Center (UC), 300 W. First Street, Arlington, Texas 76019. The event will begin at 6:00 p.m. Admission is FREE! Open to the faculty, staff and students of UT Arlington!

This event will serve as an opportunity for African-American faculty, staff and students, and other members of the campus community to meet, network, and kick-off the academic year. Students will meet members of the AAFSA and receive a special message from Dr. Myrtle P. Bell, Professor of Management at UTA.

Dr. Myrtle P. Bell, Department of Management

Special Guest Include:

Entertainment will be provided by Mike Guinn-Director of Member Services for “Special K’s Special T’s Entertainment and Events. Guinn is the Host Poet-Promoter, founder and Slam Master for the nationally recognized FORT WORTH NATIONAL POETRY SLAM TEAM. His work is nationally known for promoting awareness for issues like abused and neglected children, battered women, gangs, HIV, shaken babies, teen pregnancy, literacy and anger management.

Refreshments will be served.

Please RSVP to Eddie Freeman at efreeman@uta.edu or call (817) 272-2106 no later than Friday, September 4, 2009. For more information, visit www.uta.edu/aafsa/.