Senior Lecturer in Creative Writing
February 2016

The English Department of the University of Texas at Arlington invites applications for a full-time position as Senior Lecturer with an MFA in Creative Writing or a related PhD, preferably with a specialization in creative non-fiction, starting in the Fall semester of AY 2016-17. The teaching expectation is four courses each long semester, but the position does not involve service or research expectations. The main teaching area will be in Creative Writing, but the person will also teach Composition, Sophomore Literature, and other courses based on departmental needs. The position’s benefits and privileges are competitive with other public research universities. The salary is approximately $40,000 for the nine-month appointment. Summer teaching may be available.

Applicants should send a cover letter, writing sample (no more than 25 pages), CV, and three letters of recommendation. Send your materials to Professor Laura Kopchick, Chair, Senior Lecturer Search Committee (laurak@uta.edu). All application materials must be received by 11 March to ensure consideration.

UT Arlington is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Women, minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. A criminal background check will be conducted on finalists.
