Applications are welcome from Honors and non-Honors undergraduates in all majors

Program Dates (tentative): May 29-June 15, 2018. There will be three class sessions before departure and several following our return.

Courses: ENGL 2309: World Literature (Dr. Kevin Gustafson) and ART 4392: Visual Culture in Contemporary Peru (Dr. Amanda Alexander). All students take both courses, neither of which has a prerequisite. ENGL 2309 satisfies the Core Requirement in Language, Philosophy, and Culture. Honors students are welcome to contract either or both courses for Honors credit.

Itinerary (tentative): Visits to sites of archaeological, historic, and cultural interest, including Lima, Cusco, Machu Picchu, the Sacred Valley, Chinchero, Colca, Arequipa, Puno, Lake Titicaca. The program will involve a good deal of walking, and some hiking, in a variety of weather conditions.

Cost: The program fee of $2500 covers lodging (double occupancy); all breakfasts, some lunches, and two dinners; all program-related travel within Peru, including a number of guided tours; entrance fees to archaeological and historic sites and museums. Not included: group-rate roundtrip airfare between Dallas and Lima, some lunches and most dinners, tuition, and books. Scholarships are available through both the Honors College and the Office of International Education.

Application Form and Instructions: The application form and additional information are available at www.uta.edu/honors/abroad. Applications will be accepted beginning November 2017. Space is limited. This program is popular and will fill, so early application is strongly recommended.
