About our Suzuki Teacher, Christine Rewolinski

Ms. Rewolinski began formal music studies at the University of Missouri-Columbia, graduating with a Bachelor of Science in music Education, and a Bachelor of Music and a Masters of Music both in Violin Performance.

She has extensive experience as an orchestral violinist and has performed with the Milwaukee Ballet Orchestra, the Milwaukee Opera Orchestra, Chicago Civic Orchestra, Shreveport Symphony, Dallas Opera and Fort Worth Symphony as well as other area Metroplex area ensembles.

Ms. Rewolinski's teaching experience ranges from high school and middle school orchestra to elementary school group violin (Suzuki) and general music. Ms. Rewolinski began teaching the Suzuki method in 1990 and has since has directed university sponsored Suzuki programs at Stephen F. Austin University and the University of Texas at Arlington (1996-1999).

Ms. Rewolinski is currently working toward a Ph.D. in Music Education and Research at the University of North Texas and is a research assistant for the Division of Music Education. Her research interests include Suzuki teacher-parent partnerships, early childhood, occupational identity and the manifestation of musicality among performing musicians and music teachers.
