Description of Course Content: PSYC4357- Health Psychology 3 hours credit

This course provides a broad introduction to health psychology and its interface with the medical world. The course provides a balanced presentation of the important issues in the field, as well as specific content topics that are especially relevant today to better understand health and illness. Offered as BIOL 4357, HEED 4357, and KINE 4357. Students seeking science requirement credit must enroll in BIOL 4357; students seeking Certification in Health must enroll in HEED 4357. Prerequisite: no prerequisite; junior standing recommended.

Student Learning Outcomes:

- The student will be able to summarize the theory and research of the field of Health Psychology by reviewing and discussing the fundamental and more recent contributions to the science.
- The student will be able to describe the science of the field of Health Psychology by identifying and discussing the interplay of psychological, biological, behavioral, and social factors in the study of health issues including mechanisms and pathways in disease processes such as the initiation, promotion, and management of disease.
- The student will be able to apply the basic tenets of Health Psychology to common health issues including both acute conditions and chronic concerns such as HIV disease, cancer, heart disease, arthritis, and diabetes.

Required Textbooks and Other Course Materials:

- Taylor, S. E. (2006). Health psychology (6th ed.). New York, NY: McGraw-Hill. (ISBN: 0-07-310726-3)
- Textbook website: <http://www.mhhe.com/taylor6>
- Reserved readings will be available in the Science Education and Career Center in LS106 or a link will be available on the WebCT site for the course.

Descriptions of major assignments and examinations with due dates:

There will be three (3) cumulative exams. The format for exams will be multiple choice and short answer questions. You are required to take all three exams. Exam questions will be drawn from required reading, lecture material, and class activities. If you are tardy on the day of the exam, you will not be permitted to take the exam if any class member has completed the exam and left the room. (See the course schedule for exam dates.)

Make-up Exam Policy:

If you miss an exam, a grade of zero will be given. There is no provision for taking a make-up exam in this course unless documentation for a University-approved excuse (see Catalog <http://www.uta.edu/catalog/general/academicreg>) is received within one week of the exam date. It is the responsibility of the student to schedule any make-up exams for a time during Final Review Week.

F	0%-59.4%	0-178.4

Grade Grievance Policy:

The University Grade Grievance Policy will be followed. (See Grade Grievance Policy in the Graduate School Regulations and Information.)

Attendance Policy: Attendance is not mandatory, but it is highly recommended. If you are dropped from this class for non-payment of tuition, you may secure an Enrollment Loan through the Bursar's Office. You may not continue to attend class until your Enrollment Loan has been applied to outstanding tuition fees.

Drop Policy: Please refer to university drop policy. Please also refer to the academic calendar (<http://www.uta.edu/uta/acadcal/>).

Americans With Disabilities Act:

The University of Texas at Arlington is on record as being committed to both the spirit and letter of federal equal opportunity legislation; reference Public Law 92-112 - The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as amended. With the passage of federal legislation entitled Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), pursuant to section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, there is renewed focus on providing this population with the same opportunities enjoyed by all citizens.

As a faculty member, I am required by law to provide "reasonable accommodations" to students with disabilities, so as not to discriminate on the basis of that disability. Student responsibility primarily rests with informing faculty of their need for accommodation and in providing authorized documentation through designated administrative channels. Information regarding specific diagnostic criteria and policies for obtaining academic accommodations can be found at www.uta.edu/disability. Also, you may visit the Office for Students with Disabilities in room 102 of University Hall or call them at (817) 272-3364.

Academic Integrity:

It is the philosophy of The University of Texas at Arlington that academic dishonesty is a completely unacceptable mode of conduct and will not be tolerated in any form. All persons involved in academic dishonesty will be disciplined in accordance with University regulations and procedures. Discipline may include suspension or expulsion from the University.

"Scholastic dishonesty includes but is not limited to cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts." (Regents' Rules and Regulations, Series 50101, Section 2.2)

Sections of your work for which scholastic dishonesty has been detected will receive zero points and a disciplinary report will be filed.

Student Support Services Available:

The University of Texas at Arlington supports a variety of student success programs to help you connect with the University and achieve academic success. These programs include learning assistance, developmental education, advising and mentoring, admission and transition, and federally funded programs. Students requiring assistance academically, personally, or socially should contact the Office of Student Success Programs at 817-272-6107 for more information and appropriate referrals.

Final Review Week:

A period of five class days prior to the first day of final examinations in the long sessions shall be designated as Final Review Week. The purpose of this week is to allow students sufficient time to prepare for final examinations. During this week, there shall be no scheduled activities such as required field trips or performances; and no instructor shall assign any themes, research problems or exercises of similar scope that have a completion date during or following this week unless specified in the class syllabi. During Final Review Week, an instructor shall not give any examinations constituting 10% or more of the final grade, except makeup tests and laboratory examinations. In addition, no instructor shall give any portion of the final examination during Final Review Week. Classes are held as scheduled during this week and lectures and presentations may be given.

Librarian to Contact:

Library information can be obtained through Helen Hough, Psychology Librarian. Please contact her by phone (817-272-7429) or by email (hough@uta.edu). You will find useful information for psychology at <http://library.uta.edu/JDBC/DBs/narrowdbs.jsp?DBID=PSYCHOLOGY>.

E-Culture Policy:

The University of Texas at Arlington has adopted the University email address as an official means of communication with students. Through the use of email, UT-Arlington is able to provide students with relevant and timely information, designed to facilitate student success. In particular, important information concerning registration, financial aid, payment of bills, and graduation may be sent to students through email.

All students are assigned an email account and information about activating and using it is available at www.uta.edu/email. New students (first semester at UTA) are able to activate their email account 24 hours after registering for courses. There is no additional charge to students for using this account, and it remains active as long as a student is enrolled at UT-Arlington. Students are responsible for checking their email regularly.
