The winning essays will be published in a forthcoming volume of the Walter Prescott Webb Memorial Lecture Series, published by Texas A&M Press, along with essays by the lecturers:

Eric Schlereth • Sam W. Haynes • Will Fowler • Miguel Enrique Soto Estrada • Amy S. Greenberg

Volume edited by Sam W. Haynes and Gerald D. Saxon with an introduction by Gregg Cantrell

Deadline for submissions: January 28, 2013

Send submissions to:
Jennifer S. Lawrence (jlawrenc@exchange.uta.edu), Chair of the Webb Lectures Committee
Department of History • UT Arlington • Box 19429 • Arlington, TX 76019-0429

We are looking for students and scholars to submit original, unpublished article-length essays (maximum 10,000 words plus endnotes) that explore Texas during the Mexican period, and which examine the origins and long-term ramifications of the events that gave birth to the Texas Republic and its subsequent incorporation by the United States. Preference will be given to papers that attempt to integrate the early nineteenth century Texas borderlands into a broad, geopolitical or multicultural interpretive framework, or which seek in other ways to connect the region and its peoples to a wider world.

CONTESTED EMPIRE

RETHINKING THE TEXAS REVOLUTION

$1,000 FOR THE BEST RESEARCH ESSAY ON