MSW Field 102: it’s a process, y’all
Spring 2019
Field Education

The Importance of Field
Your Field Education Experience

You are embarking on the most challenging and most rewarding part of your social work education. Through this experience, you begin your transition from student to professional social worker.

Enjoy this time of growth!
Professional identity
Ethical Practice
Critical thinking
Diversity in practice
Human rights and justice
Research-based practice
Human behavior
Policy practice
Practice contexts
Engage, assess, intervene, evaluate
CSWE EPAS Core Competencies

- Professional identity: to learn what this means
- Ethical Practice: to face the ethical issues in practice
- Critical thinking: forces us to face biases
- Diversity in practice: is a must for competent practice
- Human rights and justice: advocating for those needing a voice, some one taking up for them
- Research-based practice: methods are based on research
- Human behavior: understanding behavior enhances practice
- Policy practice: familiarizing ourselves with admin policies
- Practice contexts: this is the setting, the populations, issues
- Engage, assess, intervene, evaluate: practice technique, methods
Preps: that’s the key!

- Preparing for Field
  - We recommend that you start planning for field when you apply to the program.
  - Field presents a hurdle that other courses do not. Although you create a degree plan for all of your courses, your field placement demands a different time commitment.
  - Remember: this is a practicum. You will be in a professional setting developing the essential skills of social workers. Depending on the type of placement you need (undergraduate, graduate, for example), you must be prepared to spend somewhere between 16 and 40 hours per week in your assigned agency or working with your Field Instructor.
  - Once you decide to enter the social work program, please begin to strategize how you will add the necessary field hours to your already-busy life. Typically, agencies do not offer internship hours exclusively in the evenings or on weekends. A few agencies offer flexible times, but most require availability during the work week. All of them require that you be present during the work week for your formal supervision.
  - We understand that accommodating your field experience requires commitment and sometimes sacrifice. However, field is the “signature pedagogy” of social work education (Council on Social Work Education) because it transforms you into a professional.
  - It is essential to your education.
  - It is the springboard for your career.
  - It is the pathway to your life’s work.
  - “Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world.”—Nelson Mandela

Making Room for Field

Activity

How will you fit field into your schedule?
From a fellow social worker: Brene Brown

“TALK TO YOURSELF LIKE YOU WOULD TO SOMEONE YOU LOVE.
— Brené Brown

developgoodhabits.com
Keep a workable, realistic schedule.
Understand that field is a limited period of time. "This to shall pass."
Insist that my family/friends provide the support they promised.
Keep my health (emotional, mental, physical) my priority.
Stay up-to-date concerning my field obligations so that I can maintain a feeling of control.
Use the field experience as the capstone of my career.
Understand that I am building my professional reputation and resume.
Keep my expectations of all that I can manage realistic.
Reach out to my field liaison before a small problem becomes a big problem.

Every Agency Requires Both

Contact the Field Office if you have concerns
Please check your mavs account often.

The Office of Field Education communicates with you exclusively through this account.

You will receive notifications of deadlines, your acceptance or rejection from agencies, and any changes in dates or procedure.
Academic Classification

- Foundation MSW student (you do not have a BSW degree): Your field placement will account for 8 credit hours.

- Advanced Standing MSW student (you have a BSW degree or have completed your Foundation Field Placement): Your field placement will account for 8 credit hours.
Please fill out all sections of the application.

Once the application is complete, submit it.

The field office will review and approve your application.
Your application will not be approved until the Field Office receives the “certificate of insurance” proving that you have purchased “Professional Liability Insurance.”

- This insurance provides coverage for you for one year in case you are named as responsible for harm to a client.
- Policy Limits of $1/$3 million are required.
- The cost is typically around $30-$50.

Please check our website for a list of vendors:
http://www.uta.edu/ssw/field/liability-insurance.php
Field Advisors review your application and match your needs with agency requests for students.

Please know that while we are affiliated with over 700 agencies, not every agency requests students every semester.

You will be matched with an agency that can provide you with a solid experience based on your concentration/specialization.
Hospitals require some or all of the following at your own cost.

- 10-panel drug test
- Criminal background check
- Negative TB skin test
- List of current immunizations
- Proof of CPR class
- Copy of current driver’s license

- Verification of personal health insurance
- Verification of current flu vaccine
- Social security number
- Date of birth

All must be complete before you can start your placement

These are not field office requirements. They are required by the hospital.
You receive an email from the Field Office telling you to contact the assigned agency to set up an interview.

When you’re ready, submit Field Application and upload proof of professional liability insurance in Sonia.

Field Office assigns you an agency.

You then accept the agency in Sonia.

IF

Agency accepts you in Sonia

Agency declines you in Sonia

IF NOT ACCEPTED
You must have a Grade Point Average of 3.0 or better when you apply for field courses and before being matched to a placement.
