Seven from UT Arlington School of Social Work Receive 2013 NASW Awards

Seven representatives of the School of Social Work have received 2013 Awards from the National Association of Social Workers. Six are awards from the local Dallas and Fort Worth Branches and the seventh is a national award.

Dallas and Fort Worth awardees will now be nominated for the NASW TX 2013 awards in their category.

Dr. Scott Ryan presented the keynote address at the annual award banquet for both branches.

The Fort Worth Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Cathi Jordan (MSSW alumna and SSW Professor)
- Elected Official Award to Kathryn Wilkerson (SSW Advisory Council and Arlington City Council)
- Social Worker of the Year award to Dr. Lee LeGrice

The MSSW Student of the Year award went to Aneeka Campbell (SSW MSSW student)

Dallas Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Shih Hunter (SSW Professor)
- MSSW Student of the Year Award to Brittany McIntyre (SSW MSSW student)
- The NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer Award: Dr. Donald Granvold, a professor of the UT Arlington School of Social Work for 40 years, has been recognized as the NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer.

This is a national award given to social workers who have explored new territories and built outposts for human services on many frontiers.

New Distance Learning Programs Expand Options

Exciting things are happening in the School of Social Work! Our renowned faculty, along with our reputation for attracting the brightest students serves as a testament to how our school is making its mark.

In response to the ever growing field of social work and your need for a flexible, yet academically sound MSSW program, we are now offering our MSSW program online and at our UT Arlington Fort Worth campus.

Seven from UT Arlington School of Social Work Receive 2013 NASW Awards

Seven representatives of the School of Social Work have received 2013 Awards from the National Association of Social Workers. Six are awards from the local Dallas and Fort Worth Branches and the seventh is a national award.

Dallas and Fort Worth awardees will now be nominated for the NASW TX 2013 awards in their category.

Dr. Scott Ryan presented the keynote address at the annual award banquet for both branches.

The Fort Worth Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Cathi Jordan (MSSW alumna and SSW Professor)
- Elected Official Award to Kathryn Wilkerson (SSW Advisory Council and Arlington City Council)
- Social Worker of the Year award to Dr. Lee LeGrice

The MSSW Student of the Year award went to Aneeka Campbell (SSW MSSW student)

Dallas Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Shih Hunter (SSW Professor)
- MSSW Student of the Year Award to Brittany McIntyre (SSW MSSW student)
- The NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer Award: Dr. Donald Granvold, a professor of the UT Arlington School of Social Work for 40 years, has been recognized as the NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer.

This is a national award given to social workers who have explored new territories and built outposts for human services on many frontiers.

New Distance Learning Programs Expand Options

Exciting things are happening in the School of Social Work! Our renowned faculty, along with our reputation for attracting the brightest students serves as a testament to how our school is making its mark.

In response to the ever growing field of social work and your need for a flexible, yet academically sound MSSW program, we are now offering our MSSW program online and at our UT Arlington Fort Worth campus.

Seven from UT Arlington School of Social Work Receive 2013 NASW Awards

Seven representatives of the School of Social Work have received 2013 Awards from the National Association of Social Workers. Six are awards from the local Dallas and Fort Worth Branches and the seventh is a national award.

Dallas and Fort Worth awardees will now be nominated for the NASW TX 2013 awards in their category.

Dr. Scott Ryan presented the keynote address at the annual award banquet for both branches.

The Fort Worth Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Cathi Jordan (MSSW alumna and SSW Professor)
- Elected Official Award to Kathryn Wilkerson (SSW Advisory Council and Arlington City Council)
- Social Worker of the Year award to Dr. Lee LeGrice

The MSSW Student of the Year award went to Aneeka Campbell (SSW MSSW student)

Dallas Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Shih Hunter (SSW Professor)
- MSSW Student of the Year Award to Brittany McIntyre (SSW MSSW student)
- The NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer Award: Dr. Donald Granvold, a professor of the UT Arlington School of Social Work for 40 years, has been recognized as the NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer.

This is a national award given to social workers who have explored new territories and built outposts for human services on many frontiers.

New Distance Learning Programs Expand Options

Exciting things are happening in the School of Social Work! Our renowned faculty, along with our reputation for attracting the brightest students serves as a testament to how our school is making its mark.

In response to the ever growing field of social work and your need for a flexible, yet academically sound MSSW program, we are now offering our MSSW program online and at our UT Arlington Fort Worth campus.

Seven from UT Arlington School of Social Work Receive 2013 NASW Awards

Seven representatives of the School of Social Work have received 2013 Awards from the National Association of Social Workers. Six are awards from the local Dallas and Fort Worth Branches and the seventh is a national award.

Dallas and Fort Worth awardees will now be nominated for the NASW TX 2013 awards in their category.

Dr. Scott Ryan presented the keynote address at the annual award banquet for both branches.

The Fort Worth Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Cathi Jordan (MSSW alumna and SSW Professor)
- Elected Official Award to Kathryn Wilkerson (SSW Advisory Council and Arlington City Council)
- Social Worker of the Year award to Dr. Lee LeGrice

The MSSW Student of the Year award went to Aneeka Campbell (SSW MSSW student)

Dallas Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Shih Hunter (SSW Professor)
- MSSW Student of the Year Award to Brittany McIntyre (SSW MSSW student)
- The NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer Award: Dr. Donald Granvold, a professor of the UT Arlington School of Social Work for 40 years, has been recognized as the NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer.

This is a national award given to social workers who have explored new territories and built outposts for human services on many frontiers.

New Distance Learning Programs Expand Options

Exciting things are happening in the School of Social Work! Our renowned faculty, along with our reputation for attracting the brightest students serves as a testament to how our school is making its mark.

In response to the ever growing field of social work and your need for a flexible, yet academically sound MSSW program, we are now offering our MSSW program online and at our UT Arlington Fort Worth campus.

Seven from UT Arlington School of Social Work Receive 2013 NASW Awards

Seven representatives of the School of Social Work have received 2013 Awards from the National Association of Social Workers. Six are awards from the local Dallas and Fort Worth Branches and the seventh is a national award.

Dallas and Fort Worth awardees will now be nominated for the NASW TX 2013 awards in their category.

Dr. Scott Ryan presented the keynote address at the annual award banquet for both branches.

The Fort Worth Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Cathi Jordan (MSSW alumna and SSW Professor)
- Elected Official Award to Kathryn Wilkerson (SSW Advisory Council and Arlington City Council)
- Social Worker of the Year award to Dr. Lee LeGrice

The MSSW Student of the Year award went to Aneeka Campbell (SSW MSSW student)

Dallas Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Shih Hunter (SSW Professor)
- MSSW Student of the Year Award to Brittany McIntyre (SSW MSSW student)
- The NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer Award: Dr. Donald Granvold, a professor of the UT Arlington School of Social Work for 40 years, has been recognized as the NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer.

This is a national award given to social workers who have explored new territories and built outposts for human services on many frontiers.

New Distance Learning Programs Expand Options

Exciting things are happening in the School of Social Work! Our renowned faculty, along with our reputation for attracting the brightest students serves as a testament to how our school is making its mark.

In response to the ever growing field of social work and your need for a flexible, yet academically sound MSSW program, we are now offering our MSSW program online and at our UT Arlington Fort Worth campus.

Seven from UT Arlington School of Social Work Receive 2013 NASW Awards

Seven representatives of the School of Social Work have received 2013 Awards from the National Association of Social Workers. Six are awards from the local Dallas and Fort Worth Branches and the seventh is a national award.

Dallas and Fort Worth awardees will now be nominated for the NASW TX 2013 awards in their category.

Dr. Scott Ryan presented the keynote address at the annual award banquet for both branches.

The Fort Worth Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Cathi Jordan (MSSW alumna and SSW Professor)
- Elected Official Award to Kathryn Wilkerson (SSW Advisory Council and Arlington City Council)
- Social Worker of the Year award to Dr. Lee LeGrice

The MSSW Student of the Year award went to Aneeka Campbell (SSW MSSW student)

Dallas Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Shih Hunter (SSW Professor)
- MSSW Student of the Year Award to Brittany McIntyre (SSW MSSW student)
- The NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer Award: Dr. Donald Granvold, a professor of the UT Arlington School of Social Work for 40 years, has been recognized as the NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer.

This is a national award given to social workers who have explored new territories and built outposts for human services on many frontiers.

New Distance Learning Programs Expand Options

Exciting things are happening in the School of Social Work! Our renowned faculty, along with our reputation for attracting the brightest students serves as a testament to how our school is making its mark.

In response to the ever growing field of social work and your need for a flexible, yet academically sound MSSW program, we are now offering our MSSW program online and at our UT Arlington Fort Worth campus.

Seven from UT Arlington School of Social Work Receive 2013 NASW Awards

Seven representatives of the School of Social Work have received 2013 Awards from the National Association of Social Workers. Six are awards from the local Dallas and Fort Worth Branches and the seventh is a national award.

Dallas and Fort Worth awardees will now be nominated for the NASW TX 2013 awards in their category.

Dr. Scott Ryan presented the keynote address at the annual award banquet for both branches.

The Fort Worth Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Cathi Jordan (MSSW alumna and SSW Professor)
- Elected Official Award to Kathryn Wilkerson (SSW Advisory Council and Arlington City Council)
- Social Worker of the Year award to Dr. Lee LeGrice

The MSSW Student of the Year award went to Aneeka Campbell (SSW MSSW student)

Dallas Branch awards include:
- Lifetime Achievement Award to Dr. Shih Hunter (SSW Professor)
- MSSW Student of the Year Award to Brittany McIntyre (SSW MSSW student)
- The NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer Award: Dr. Donald Granvold, a professor of the UT Arlington School of Social Work for 40 years, has been recognized as the NASW 2013 Social Work Pioneer.

This is a national award given to social workers who have explored new territories and built outposts for human services on many frontiers.

New Distance Learning Programs Expand Options

Exciting things are happening in the School of Social Work! Our renowned faculty, along with our reputation for attracting the brightest students serves as a testament to how our school is making its mark.

In response to the ever growing field of social work and your need for a flexible, yet academically sound MSSW program, we are now offering our MSSW program online and at our UT Arlington Fort Worth campus.
Social work graduate student receives Imo Hogg Scholarship

Three students save social work assistant professor’s life

Students receive hero award

CPR training to be offered to students

Danis Speaks Out About Violence Against Women Act

Social Work Constituency Council to host 3rd Extravaganza Sale

The Center for African American Studies hosts “An Evening with Author”

Simmons Gives $1 Million Gift for iCAP: The Dallas Morning News

Read more