

Student Publications provides training and professional support for publication of The Shorthorn, the official UT Arlington student newspaper; and other publications and services. In doing so, the department provides training for students preparing for careers in journalism and related fields.