"Education is the most powerful weapon which we can use to change the world."

Nelson Mandela

We at DFW International community Alliance recognize the significant role education has played in our nation's growth and success as well as in the ability of its inhabitants to pursue their right to happiness. For several years we have offered this Scholarship Guide as a downloadable database for minority students and for children of "New Americans" who may not be aware of the many opportunities for scholarships available to them.

LYNNE
RICHARDSON
CHAIRMAN

Over 40% of North Texas residents are immigrants and their children. Their impact in our cultural, economic and political well-being must be recognized and supported. As they continue to assimilate, their hopes and dreams become the story of our country to the rest of the world.

This Guide is a small symbol of our gratitude to them and to the dedicated educators who wish to assist them to reach their personal and economic goals.

Anne Marie Weiss Armush

President

DFW International Community Alliance

DFW International Community Alliance is the portal to international DFW, a region in which 40% of the residents are 'New Americans'. We are a network of more than 1,600 internationally-themed organizations across North Texas.

Our MISSION is to build mutual understanding and respect by linking diverse international cultural communities.

Part I: PREPARING for COLLEGE

COLLEGE PREP TIMELINE FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Excerpted from: The Sallie Mae Fund Mission: Possible!

www.thesalliemaefund.org/smfnew/sections/download.html

Freshman Year

- Meet with your guidance counselor and select courses that meet college admissions requirements.
- Take challenging classes that build skills.
- Get involved in extracurricular activities.
- Research career possibilities.
- During the summer read books, take courses or volunteer.

Sophomore Year

- Some schools offer an optional PSAT and/or PLAN test to discover your strengths and weaknesses.
- Talk to your guidance counselor about your PSAT and/or PLAN scores and next steps.
- Continue to research college and career options.
- During the summer read books, take courses, or volunteer.

Junior year

- Take the PSAT (this one is required). A good score may qualify you for scholarship programs.
- Talk to your guidance counselor about your PSAT scores and learn how to improve them.
- Start researching your options for grants, scholarships, and work-study programs.
- Research, and visit colleges that you are interested in (and discuss them with your counselor).
- Register for the ACT, SAT, and/or SAT Subject Tests as required by your selected colleges. Or if you haven't selected colleges, discuss with your counselor which test(s) you should take. If you can not cover the cost of the exams, speak to your counselor.

Senior Year

- Obtain and complete admissions and financial aid applications.
- Ask your teachers for recommendations, if the colleges require them.
- Visit colleges and attend college fairs.
- Send your transcript and test scores to your selected colleges.
- Complete the FAFSA as soon as possible after January 1.
- Review your Student Aid Report (SAR), acceptances, and financial aid offers.
- By May 1, make final decisions and notify schools.

COLLEGE PREP CURRICULUM

Excerpted from: KnowHow2Go

<http://www.knowhow2go.org/>

College admission officers see your course schedule as the outline of your high school education. Take at least five solid academic classes every semester. The following subjects and classes are standard for success in high school and beyond:

- English - Four or more years (grammar, composition, literature, etc.)
- Mathematics - Three or more years (algebra I and higher-does not include general math, business math, or consumer math)
- Natural Sciences - Three or more years (earth science, biology, chemistry, physics, etc.)
- Social Sciences - Three or more years (history, economics, geography, civics, psychology, etc.)
- Additional Courses - Some colleges and universities require other classes as prerequisites for admission, such as two or more years of the same foreign language or courses in the visual arts, music, theater, drama, dance, computer science, etc.

OTHER ELEMENTS THAT HELP YOU SUCCEED

Excerpted from: CollegeBoard connect to college success

www.collegeboard.com/

Advanced Placement Program (AP) - Through AP Exams, you have the opportunity to earn credit or advanced standing at most of the nation's colleges and universities. If you do well, you can save time and money while learning.

Extra-curricular activities - Join different clubs in school and become a volunteer in various activities like tutoring elementary school kids or spending time at a local hospital. Get involved in your community.

Work experience - Year-round or summer internship (paid or unpaid) can help you identify career interests and goals, and gain real work experience. Don't forget to list these on your application.

Be aware of your class ranking. More and more colleges and universities are considering class rank when admitting students. Some Texas universities automatically admit top 10 percent students of the class.

TESTS for COLLEGE ASMISSION

Excerpted from: AIE Adventures in Education

www.adventuresineducation.org/HighSchool

- PSAT - Most students take the PSAT (Preliminary Scholastic Assessment Test) in the fall of their junior year in high school.
- SAT - A 3-hour exam that measures verbal and mathematical reasoning. The maximum possible score is 1600 (800 verbal and 800 mathematics). The admissions office in the college or university you plan to attend can tell you which portions of the SAT you might need to take.

- ACT Assessment - A 3-hour exam covering four skill areas: English, mathematics, reading and science reasoning. The maximum possible score is 36.

• Should you take the SAT or the ACT?

The SAT & ACT are the two most widely used college entrance exams. Students take it in their junior or senior year in high school. Most colleges and universities will accept scores from either for admissions purposes. However, some schools prefer one over the other. Check your school's requirements, to make sure.

PART 2: HOW TO ENROLL IN COLLEGE

Excerpted from: AIE Adventures in Education

www.adventuresineducation.org/HighSchool

Choosing which college or university you want to attend is one of the biggest decisions you will make in your life. Remember, your goal is to find the school that is right for your needs, not those of your friends and family. You should think about these things:

- Does the school offer a good program in the field you wish to study?
- What are the admission requirements and can you meet them?
- How much does it cost (tuition, housing, meals) and can you afford it?
- How big is the college or university, teacher to student ratio, etc.?

You can find the answers to these questions on the internet, at college fairs, by visiting the schools, and by contacting the admissions offices of the universities colleges on your list.

TYPES of COLLEGES

Community and junior colleges generally offer two-year associate degree programs. For students who decide to continue their studies in a four-year program, the course credits usually transfer to four-year colleges.

Four-year colleges and universities offer bachelor's degrees in many fields of study. Many also offer graduate programs.

Public colleges and universities are generally less expensive than private colleges. However, the low rates are normally available only to residents of the state. One can eligible for in-state(resident) fee after 1 year.

Private colleges are usually more expensive than a public university. But they often offer financial aid options that make their cost feasible.

Vocational training schools are privately owned and operated schools that offer a wide variety of vocational courses that take from five months to three years to complete.

COLLEGE APPLICATIONS

Remember, your application makes your first impression for you. Keep a few things in mind when filling out your application:

- Always apply to more than one school.
- It is always good to apply long before deadline.
- Check for early admission dates to save money – sometimes it can be free.
- Answer all questions. Don't leave anything blank.
- Type or print your answers. Be neat. Presentation is important.
- Include supporting materials (letters of recommendation, examples of your work or interests).
- Keep a copy of the application documents for future requirements.
- Include any required processing fees with your application.
- Fine tune your essay. Don't ramble. Have someone else review your draft.
- Proofread your application. Have a parent or a friend proofread it, too.

PART 3: FINANCIAL AID

FAFSA

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is a form that most schools use to determine financial aid, and money is awarded on a first-come, first-serve basis. Complete it immediately after January 1st of your senior year. Forms are available in your high school or at www.fafsa.ed.gov/.

After you submit your FAFSA, you will be sent a Student Aid Report (SAR), which tells how much money your family is expected to contribute to your college education for one year. This helps schools and scholarship organizations know how much money you will need in financial aid.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Excerpted from: Latino College Dollars
www.latinocollegedollars.org/index.html

Scholarships are free money that is available to offset the cost of school. Students have to apply for scholarships, which are awarded on a case-by-case basis, often based on merit. If a student receives a scholarship, it does not have to be paid back.

Every scholarship has varying requirements – including its own application, which you will need to get and complete – but it is a good idea to pull together a folder of the following information (or as much of it as you can), as almost all scholarships will ask for some combination of these things:

- One or two essays
- Letter(s) of recommendation
- Writing sample
- Resume
- Transcripts
- Copy of Student Aid Report (SAR)
- Parent and Student Tax Returns and W-2 Forms
- GPA Certification Form
- Enrollment Verification Form
- Copy of Financial Aid Award Letter

Some scholarships require proof of citizenship in order to qualify for a scholarship, but others do not. According to Senate Bill 1528, if you are a foreign student or non-citizen, you may be eligible to be classified as a Texas resident for tuition purposes. If so, you may also be eligible to receive state financial aid.

A few scholarships are offered by regional or national organizations and companies, but the funds are distributed directly to partnering universities. Students who wish to apply for these grants do so through the financial aid office of their university rather than writing to the foundation.

LOANS

Excerpted from: FinAid! the SmartStudent Guide to Financial Aid
www.finaid.org/loans/studentloan.phtml

Student loans assist in paying for college, and have a lower interest rate than other loans. Student loans must be repaid, but not until you are out of school.

Federal loans consist of the unsubstituted and substituted Stafford Loans and the Perkins loans. Each of these loans have different requirements. Your SAR will determine which loan(s) you best qualify for.

After you have filled out the FAFSA form, talk to your selected colleges' financial aid offices and turn in the college applications early.

SMU MEADOWS SCHOOL OF THE ARTS

MOVEMENT

This isn't just a slogan – it's what we expect from our students. Ask questions. Find answers. Get outside your comfort zone. Do it locally, globally, for yourself, or for humanity; whatever you do, we want you to move, to innovate, to imagine, to know, to explore.

At SMU Meadows we encourage students to challenge themselves and take risks, to travel across boundaries, test ideas and question culture and values. We want our students to have a voice, have something to say and to have the knowledge and discipline to be able to say it.

DCCCD SCHOLARSHIPS MADE COLLEGE POSSIBLE FOR US

Sisters Liz and Pamela Juárez know that a college education is key to creating opportunities for their future careers. Liz secured a LeCroy Scholarship, a DCCCD Foundation award that recognizes both leadership and scholarship and provides mentoring in addition to college funds. She completed her associate's degree in nursing and is a Registered Nurse at a Dallas medical center. Younger sister Pamela followed her sister's lead and was also selected as a LeCroy Scholar and is currently pursuing her associate's degree in criminal justice. She plans on becoming an attorney.

Liz and Pamela Juárez

The LeCroy Scholars program is one of more than 350 scholarships available through the DCCCD Foundation. Make the most of your future and take advantage of the many scholarship opportunities available to you.

Multicultural Affairs
UT ARLINGTON

The office of Multicultural Affairs in the Division of Student Affairs is proud to provide information on Maverick Promise. It is our hope that students will avail themselves of the scholarship information offered at The University of Texas at Arlington Scholarship Office as well as the scholarships listed on our website at www.uta.edu/multicultural.

The University of Texas at Arlington's Maverick Promise financial aid program has taken a significant step toward making higher education more affordable by granting free tuition to students whose household income is $65,000 or less. The expanded program will be available for the fall 2009 semester. Along with the income limit of $65,000 or less, a student must also be eligible for a Federal Pell Grant. Eligibility is based on a calculated "expected family contribution" derived from a federal formula.

Maverick Promise is open to all undergraduate students who are enrolled at least half-time (6 credit hours). Students may renew Maverick Promise if they continue to meet the conditions outlined and meet the academic progress requirements outlined by UT Arlington. New freshmen students are eligible for Maverick Promise for up to five years and new transfer students are eligible for up to three years.

The power of teamwork?

The more we pull together, the more we can achieve. That's our philosophy at Ernst & Young, not just for serving our clients, but our community, too. We're joining DFW International Community Alliance to help support their work. A better tomorrow takes all of us.
