I'm a personal trainer with Camp Gladiator for 3 years now, but was a camper for a year before I became a trainer. My back story started about 6 years ago after being a year sober I decided to change my outsides to match my insides. I was 230 pounds and started my fitness journey and after about a year and half of short workouts at home and losing about 60 pounds, I tried CG and changed my world. I'm now 100 pounds less and CG changed everything I ever thought about fitness! I love getting to impact and show people that working out can be fun and become addicting!
