

Students must speak with their instructor to establish the requirements of the Honors contract before attempting to create one**

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL <https://www.uta.edu/honors/credit/example/entry.php?new>. The page title is "Honors College @ UTA: Hono...". The main content area is titled "Instructions" and contains the following text:

- Section A: Students fill out Section A below. When it is saved, an email should be sent to the faculty with instructions regarding the review and signing of the contract. The faculty must sign off on the contract no later than 11:59 pm on Monday, September 12, 2016. No contracts will be accepted after the semester/session deadline.
- Section B: Students must fill out Section B and submit on or before the last day of regular classes (see date below). No incomplete contracts will be available after the deadline.
- Special Note: Honors students are not permitted to contract the following courses: Developmental and elementary/skills courses (e.g., ENGL 0301 and ENGL 1000-level courses, CSE 1301, 1310, etc.), foreign language courses 1441, 1442, 2313, 2314 and 2315, exercise courses, online, and Intersession courses. These will automatically be removed from your course list below. Contact an advisor if you have a question about a particular course not listed above.

Below the instructions, the "Contract Due Date: By the last day of class" is displayed. The "Section A" form includes the following fields:

UTA ID Number:

First Name:

Last Name:

Contact Email:

Contact Phone:

Major:

Semester:

Eligible Courses:

pre hours.

may include ineligible courses or courses with ineligible instructors. If a contract is created with that type of course, it will be rejected when reviewed by the Honors College.

Where are my other courses?

The faculty could not be found. Please enter the information below.

Faculty Name:

Faculty Email:

Once you sign in, the Online Credit System will automatically populate your name, ID, email, and major. Enter a contact phone number and select the class you want to create a contract for from the drop down menu. Click "Identify Faculty" and the system should input your instructor information. If it does not, type their name and university email address in the boxes shown above.

All of the classes you are enrolled in may not show up in the drop-down list of courses. This is because the Online Credit System is designed to:

- 1) Show only courses that are eligible to be contracted in the drop-down menu; and
- 2) Show only eligible classes that are taught by eligible instructors. Note: if an instructor has not attempted a contract with an Honors student previously, it is possible that your drop-down course list may include one or more eligible courses with ineligible instructors. If a contract is created with an instructor who is not eligible, it will be cancelled when it is reviewed by the Honors College; and
- 3) Since Honors students are only permitted to enroll in and/or contract up to 9 hours in the fall and spring semesters and 6 hours in the summer semesters, the system alerts students as to how many more hours they can contract; thus, preventing "over" contracting.

PART A — The Proposal:
This course contract delineates the terms of the Independent Honors Project required to earn Honors credit for a non-Honors designated course. As is with Honors designated courses, the goal of a contracted course should be enrichment/enhancement. The goal of contacting a course is to make the course more challenging and demanding not by simply assigning more work, but by allowing the student to take more educational value from the work that is assigned.

Reason for contracting this specific course and how it fits with your Honors curriculum and future goals:

I am a theatre major with an interest in fine arts and public education policies.

What additional value will you take from the class?

I would like to have a better understanding of interest groups and whether or not they have the ability to influence how Texas legislators vote on these policies.

Complete the two text boxes asking for information on why you are contracting this particular course and what additional value you expect to take from the class. These do not have to be intense descriptions, but tell us something more than "I need the Honors credits."

Based on the discussion you have already had with your instructor about the requirements of the contract, check one or more of the boxes listed below in "Honors Contract Activities." All four boxes DO NOT need to be completed. Only check and complete those that apply to this specific contract.

For example, if you are required to write a research paper and give a presentation on that research, then you would check both boxes and input the necessary information (as seen below).

Contracts require both quantitatively and qualitatively additional work from the student, usually 10–15% additional effort beyond the standard course requirements, such as additional readings, writing, research, presenting, etc. (or some combination) appropriate to the course.

Honors Contract Activities: Please specifically describe the additional effort required for the Honors contract. Identify the length of papers, scope of projects, topics to be researched, etc. In the sections below, you will provide the details for you work. Break out the components of the overall work into the appropriate sections.

IMPORTANT: There must be sufficient detail included about what is required for Honors credit in order for the Honors College to approve the contract. Insufficient detail may delay the approval of your contract and/or cause the contract to be cancelled.

After all of the necessary information has been entered, click "Sign Contract." The faculty member listed for the course should receive an email notification that a student has created an Honors credit contract in their class; however, while an EMAIL is handy, it IS NOT REQUIRED. Faculty and students can access their contracts and designation forms at any time by going to www.uta.edu/honors/credit.

Once the contract is signed by the instructor, the student can no longer make any changes to it. If, for any reason, a student decides not to complete a contract, they can go into the specific contract and click "cancel." Note: If a student decides to cancel a contract, it is important that they speak with their instructor before doing so. This is a matter of courtesy and respect of their time, as well as being vital to maintaining good faculty-student relationships.

The contract has been created. Now what?

Students cannot create a contract in a class with an instructor who is not teaching the specific section of the course that the student is enrolled in. The instructor of record for the course is the only person who can sign the Honors contract.

When faculty sign into the Online Credit System, they will review the requirements detailed by the student and either approve the contract as written, or modify the requirements to better reflect their expectations of the student for earning Honors credit in the course. If this happens, the student should receive an email letting them know that the requirements of the contract have been changed and that they should review the changes. Again, an EMAIL is handy, but it IS NOT REQUIRED to access the contract.

When a contract has both the faculty and student signatures, it becomes an active contract that is ready to be reviewed by the Honors College for rigor and eligibility. Once the Honors College approves the contract, the status will change to "awaiting final signature" (this is the faculty signature indicating that the student completed the requirements of the contract—Part B).

If the Honors College needs additional information about the requirements, the student will receive a subsequent email requesting the contract be revised within a limited window of time. It is important that students check their MavMail and the Online Credit System on a regular basis. Any contract that does not have all of the required signatures and/or requested information by the due date stated will be automatically cancelled by the online system.

Important:

It is the responsibility of the student to verify the status of their contract(s), to ensure that if the instructor made modifications they understand what those are, and to contact their instructor if a contract has not been signed before the deadline. The Online Credit System automatically cancels contracts that are incomplete by 11:59pm on the published deadline.

What happens next?

Honors students must complete the Reflection Questions in Part B of their contract to receive Honors credit. The Honors College really does want students to provide honest feedback on their experiences. Faculty cannot see your responses, so please take some time to consider each question carefully and answer candidly.

	PART B — Honors Contract Reflection: This section is available once the faculty signs-off on the project, or one week prior to the end of the semester. A contract is not complete until this section is filled out by the student, and the faculty member gives final approval. Late or incomplete contracts will not be accepted. The questions in the section are: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. What enrichment/enhancement did you gain by completing this Honors contract?2. Would you suggest the project you completed to another Honors student? Why or why not?3. Now that you have completed the contract, what would you have done differently? <input type="button" value="Sign Contract"/> <input type="button" value="Reset form"/> Return to the main page of the system. <hr/> Return to your List of Contracts
© 2016 Honors College @ UT Arlington College Hall, Suite 108 • 600 South West St • Arlington, TX 76019 e: honors@uta.edu • p: 817-272-7215 • f: 817-272-7217 National Collegiate Honors Council • Great Plains Honors Council UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS  ARLINGTON

The fields for the Reflection Questions will become available:

- A) When the faculty member signs Part B indicating the student has completed the requirements of the contract; or
- B) One week prior to the last official day of classes (Part B deadline—before final exams)

Any contract that does not have the Reflection Questions completed by 11:59pm on the due date will be automatically cancelled by the Online Credit System (even if the instructor has signed Part B).

Once Part B has been completed and signed, the contract is “pending for the final grade.” To receive Honors credit, a student must earn an A or B in the course. When grades post at the end of the semester, the Honors College verifies the grade received and then asks the Office of Records to denote the course as Honors in the student’s records.

Important:

Honors notations are not automatic. They are entered into MyMav individually by the Office of Records; thus, it can take several weeks for students to see these notations on their unofficial transcript.
