WHY BE AN RA?
“The best part about being an RA is being a active role model in your community and building relationships with cool residents.”
LIDU MAHALINGAM
ARLINGTON HALL

“I became an RA because I want to be my residents immediate resource. I want to make their time in college the best experience and also improve my leadership qualities at the same time.”
“Through the RA position, I have developed and been able to fine-tune so many valuable life skills. This opportunity has improved my communication skills, taught me time management skills and flexibility, boosted my confidence, and allowed me to interact with a very diverse group of people in ways that have helped me to better myself by opening my mind to new ways of thinking and connecting with others in our community.”
“I learned the importance of time management. Also, I have learned so much from becoming an RA and how my responsibilities can have priorities. I have learned that I make a big impact on my own life and the life of my residents. The way I go about responsibilities has also changed positively.”

TIMOTHY CRUZ, BRAZOS HOUSE
“Being an RA gives you opportunities to impact people's lives; through your effective programming and communication with residents, you really make a difference. It is the small things that make me happy, like when a resident simply says thank you for all the work that you do!”
KATE CHAPARRO, LIPSCOMB HALL

“The best part about being an RA is getting to help people, and directly and indirectly see the impact you get to have on them. Even if it’s just little moments, being a positive person and influence around someone can be so amazing, and this job gives you the opportunity to do that.”
