Directing Workshop (ART 3386-001)
Spring Semester 2011

Instructor: Ya’Ke
Office: Fine Arts Bldg # 159
Phone: (210)363-2791
E-mail: yake@uta.edu
Office hours: Monday 5:00 P.M. – 6:00 P.M.
Class meets: Monday/Wednesday 7:00 P.M. – 9:50 P.M. in FA156

Course Description:
The goal of this workshop is to develop the ability and self-confidence to articulate and translate from the page to the screen the narrative and the corresponding visual/aural structures of a scene or short film. Broadly speaking, we will be concerned with the role of the director in narrative filmmaking and the director’s storytelling and aesthetic responsibilities. The investigation of the director/actor relationship will be our priority and the course’s primary area of focus. Casting, rehearsal technique, acting theory and process, and staging issues will be explored in depth. Readings, exercises, screenings and other assignments are designed to sharpen the director’s narrative and visual awareness.

Course Requirements:
Cast, rehearse, shoot and edit two three-to-four-minute scenes. Prepare shot lists, overhead shooting diagrams, lined scripts and storyboards for both scenes.

Participate fully in all classes and labs. Offer specific and constructive critiques of your fellow directors’ efforts. The workshop is designed to help you to clarify what you want as directors, how to get it, and how to recognize when you’ve gotten it. Your critiques should reflect not how you would cover a particular scene or handle an acting problem; rather, your critiques should suggest ways that your fellow directors might achieve their own goals.

Arrive on time at all classes and labs and keep up with all assignments. Your presence and active participation are critical elements of a successful workshop environment. Your grade will go down half a letter grade per absence, unless there is a documented emergency. Your grade will go down one third of a letter grade each time you are late to class.

You are also required to go and see at least one play in the DFW area. You must bring me back the playbill and ticket for the production.
The Two Scenes:
Your two scenes must be taken from published plays or produced screenplays. They cannot be something you have written. Both scenes should have two characters. The choice of material for each scene must be approved in advance of casting. You may not cast your class mates or friends in your scenes unless those individuals have significant acting experience. Under no circumstances may you act in one of your scenes. Scenes will be rehearsed at least three times outside of class and then brought into class to be performed and discussed. The final step will be to shoot and edit the scene, and present your cut to the class. Your focus in working on these scenes should be on process, not result. These scenes are individual, not group, projects. You should strip down production values to the bare minimum necessary to demonstrate an understanding of the directorial and performance issues at stake in the scenes.

Attendance:
All faculty members of the film/video program share the following attendance policy. Attendance is required to ALL scheduled classes. However we do understand that there are occasions when absence is necessary and excusable. In accordance to university policy religious holidays are excusable as is illness with a written note from a physician. The student is responsible for notifying the professor ahead of class if the absence is unavoidable. Unexcused absences over two days, including any absence in which the professor and student do not communicate in writing before the absence will result in the following grade reductions.

Third day absent will result in reduction of one letter for the final semester grade.

Fourth day absent will result two letters off the final semester grade.

Fifth day absent will result in automatic failure of the class.

The student is responsible for any work missed during an absence, including any handouts given in class and any demonstrations. It is not the responsibility of faculty to re-teach what the student has missed. Student should be aware that if a demonstration is missed they might not be allowed to utilize that equipment. Attendance is also mandatory for all critiques whether the student has completed the work required or not. Consistent lateness will also have a detrimental effect on the student’s final grade. If you are more then ten minutes late you will be counted as absent.

Grading:
All assignments must be turned in on the due date. NO LATE WORK WILL BE ACCEPTED, unless there are unforeseen circumstances. This must be discussed with the professor and only in rare circumstances will it be accepted.
Americans With Disabilities Act:
The University of Texas at Arlington is on record as being committed to both the spirit and letter of federal equal opportunity legislation; reference Public Law 93-112—The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as amended. With the passage of new federal legislation entitled Americans with Disabilities Act- (ADA), pursuant to section 504 of The Rehabilitation Act, there is renewed focus on providing this population with the same opportunities enjoyed by all citizens.

As a faculty member, I am required by law to provide “reasonable accommodation” to students with disabilities, so as not to discriminate on the basis of that disability. Student responsibility primarily rests with informing faculty at the beginning of the semester (within one week) and in providing authorized documentation through designated administrative channels.

Academic Dishonesty:
It is the philosophy of The University of Texas at Arlington that academic dishonesty is a completely unacceptable mode of conduct and will not be tolerated in any form. All persons involved in academic dishonesty will be disciplined in accordance with University regulations and procedures. Discipline may include suspension or expulsion from the University.

“Scholastic dishonesty includes but is not limited to cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts.” (Regents’ Rules and Regulations, part One, Chapter VI, Section 3, Subsection 3.2, Subdivision 3.22)

An exception to the definition of scholastic dishonesty is collaboration amongst students in the film/video classes. On some assignments in this class you will be required to work with other students as a group. On other assignments, assigned as individual projects, you may wish to enlist the help of someone in the class to assist with camerawork, lighting, audio, etc. This is in no way considered cheating but rather collaborative effort to produce a polished, professional video project. Collaboration is necessary to satisfactorily succeed in this class and it is encouraged that students assist others in this class and other film/video classes at UTA in order to advance their own expertise. Please be aware however, that if you ask for assistance with something you are unfamiliar with you are required to gain and show expertise in that skill upon completion of the project. Do NOT use classmates to do things you simply do not have the time or desire to do.

“Some directors, and very famous ones, still fear actors instead of embracing them as comrades in a task. The director must know how to stimulate, even inspire the actor. Needless to say he must also know how to make an actor seem no to act, how to put him or her at their ease, bring them to that state of relaxation where their creative faculties are released....all in all he must know enough in all these areas so his actors trust him completely.”
